

When It Comes to Love

Foreigner

I remember the day
Seems so far away
When i walked into your life
And the look in your eyes
How it took you by suprise
But it felt so rightThen i drew you in
Told you anything
Cuz I wanted you so bad
Girl i led you on
Said there's nothing wrong
In giving your heart to me
But when it comes to love
I should know better
When it comes to love
I take the blame
Cuz you are the one I should've held on to
Yeah, it coulda ben youI never realized
How time was on my side
Lost sight of my perfect world
And the man that ive become
From the damage that i've done
It's so clear to me nowBut I wished that I
Never was the kind
To steal a lonely heart
And I didn't see how good you were for me
Now it's too late to go back
Cuz when it comes to love
I should know better
When it comes to love
I take the blame
Cuz you are the one I should've held on toWhen it comes to love
Girl I can't help it
When it comes to love
I always lose my way
And you are the one I should've held on toAh, it coulda been you
Making a change in my heart
Finding a new place to start
Wondering what I can do
Will I ever get over you... noWhen it comes to love
I should know better
When it comes to love
I take the blame

Cuz you are the one I should've held on to
When it comes to love
Girl I can't help it
When it comes to love
I always lose my way
And you are the one I should've held on to
Ah, it could've been you

Lyrics provided by <https://www.omusic.in/>