

Let Us Burn One

Chiodos

And I thought I knew you, thought you cared
It was fooling to think that you were there
Oh, the fire was burning me up
While your infamy was bringing me down
And you were never there, you were never there I gave it all to you
Everything I had and then you took my soul
You took my soul away I gave it all to you
Everything I had and then you took my soul away
You took my soul away I'm not much of a drinker but you poured me a glass
Filling it up with your lies
How I drank it fast, down, down it went
Intoxicated with the lies you told me
But now I see you
You thought that I was blind
Thought that I was blind
But surely I can see and you will burn for this You'll burn for this, you'll burn for this, you'll burn I gave it all to you
Everything I had and then you took my soul
You took my soul away And I gave it all to you
Everything I had and then you took my soul
You took my soul away Oh, I am the weight of the world
I'm crashing down upon you
I am the fire, I am the flame I'll fight your fire
I'll fight it with my fire
I'll fight it with my fire
Now you're trembling
I gave it all to you
Everything I had and then you took my soul
You took my soul away I gave it all to you
Everything I had and then you took my soul
You took my soul away And I fight your fire with my fire
And now you're trembling in your skin again
And I fight your fire with my fire
And now you're trembling in your skin, in your skin
